DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over European Patent WO 03/097299.

European Patent WO 03/097299 discloses the claimed invention except for the dimensions of the elements. However the dimensions may be obtained through experimentation. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to tool of European Patent WO 03/097299 to have the claimed dimensions since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

3. Claims 1, 2, 5-11 and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over European Patent WO 03/011527.

European Patent WO 03/011527 discloses the claimed invention except for the dimensions of the elements. However the dimensions may be obtained through experimentation. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to tool of European Patent WO03/011527 to have the claimed dimensions since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 1 is rejected on the grounds of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 2 of copending application 10/578,201. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it is clear that all elements of claim 1 of the instant invention 10/564,667 are found in claim 11 of copending application 10/578,201. The differences between claim 1 of 10/564,667 and claim 11 of copending application 10/578,201 lies in the fact that compending application 10/578,201 claims include many more features and is thus much more specific (for example, claim 1 requires "that has a hub with at least a fastening means"). Thus claim 1 of 10/311,046 is in effect a "species" of the "generic" invention of claim 11 of compending application 10/578,201. It has been held that the generic invention is "anticipated" by the "species". See In re Goodman, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Since claim 1, of 10/564,667, is anticipated by claim 11, of compending application 10/578,201 it is not patentably distinct from claim 11. The dimensions of the elements as discloses in the claims of 10/564,667 are not claimed in compending application 10/578,201. However the dimensions may be obtained through experimentation. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to tool of application with the claimed dimessions of 10/564,667 since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).
